

ALFRAGANUS UNIVERSITY TASHKENT

Alfraganus Medical University, established in 2022 in Tashkent, Uzbekistan, is a modern and rapidly growing institution named after the renowned Uzbek astronomer Ahmad al-Fergani. Recognized by the Ministry of Health of Uzbekistan and listed by the Pakistan Medical Commission (PMC), it offers internationally oriented programs such as MBBS, MD, and BDS. In just a few years, the university has expanded significantly, enrolling over 18,000 students across eight faculties. It actively collaborates with institutions from countries like Turkey, Japan, South Korea, and the USA to enhance academic quality and global exposure.

The university provides comprehensive support for international students, including visa assistance, airport pickup, hostel accommodation, and medical checkups. It also offers scholarships and tuition fee waivers to high-performing and innovative students. With a strong focus on modern education, international partnerships, and student-centered services, Alfraganus Medical University is quickly becoming a preferred destination for medical education in Central Asia.
